

23.10-24.10.2025 CONFERENCE

International Scientific Conference 'Artificial intelligence in legal proceedings worldwide-a threat to human rights?'

Conference organizers: European University of Law and Administration in Warsaw (Poland) and Politehnica Bucharest National University of Science and Technology in Pitesti, Romania
Warsaw time

23rd October 2025

9.50-10.00 Opening of the conference

Panel I. Human rights and artificial intelligence in judicial proceedings

10.00-10.20 Dr Mohammad Owais Farooqui, assistant professor (University of Sharjah, United Arab Emirates) – A procedural right to a human judge: foundations and framework for safeguarding fair trials in the age of artificial intelligence

10.20-10.40 Dr Amelia Gheoculescu (Politehnica Bucharest National University of Science and Technology in Pitesti, Romania) – Artificial intelligence in judicial processes: the risks of violating of fundamental human rights

10.40-11.00 Dr hab. Kamil Zaradkiewicz (Uniwersytet Warszawski in Warsaw) – The 'robot judge' and the right to a fair trial in the constitutional sense

11.00-11.20 Dr hab. Antoni Bojańczyk, professor UW (Uniwersytet Warszawski in Warsaw) – On a path towards convergence or artificial intelligence? Models of judicial appointment in the EU legal sphere

11.20-11.40 Dr hab. Agnieszka Góra-Błaszczkowska, professor ASzWoj (Akademia Sztuki Wojennej in Warsaw) and Dr Ganesh V. Radhakrishnan, senior professor (Kalinga Institute of Industrial Technology KIIT Bhubaneswar, India) – Artificial intelligence across borders: judicial sovereignty and human rights in India and Poland

11.40-12.00 Dr hab. Ewa Stefańska (Uniwersytet Warszawski in Warsaw) – Legal conditions for data collection for artificial intelligence applications in the judiciary

12.00-12.20 Discussion

12.20-12.40 Break

Panel II. Use of artificial intelligence in judicial proceedings

12.40-13.00 Dr hab. Igor Zgoliński, professor PBŚ (Politechnika Bydgoska in Bydgoszcz) – Digitalization in criminal proceedings. Risks and threats

13.00-13.20 Dr Magdalena Dziejcz (Europejska Wyższa Szkoła Prawa i Administracji in Warsaw) – Remote hearing in Polish civil proceedings

13.20-13.40 Dr hab. Tomasz Demendecki, professor UMCS (Uniwersytet Marii Curie-Skłodowskiej in Lublin) – Litigation protection of parties in civil court proceedings using artificial intelligence

13.40-14.00 Dr hab. Tomasz Szanciło, professor EWSPA (Europejska Wyższa Szkoła Prawa i Administracji in Warsaw) – The use of artificial intelligence in civil second instance proceedings – opportunities and risks

14.00-14.20 Prof. dr hab. Mariusz Załucki (Uniwersytet Andrzeja Frycza-Modrzewskiego in Cracow) – Intelligent Supreme Court

14.20-14.00 Discussion

